PEQUONNOCK RIVER VALLEY - TRUMBULL, CT Old Mine Originally known bsy Native Americans as "Saganawamps," this 72-acre park was acquired by the Town in 1937. This area is unique in Connecticut for its varied rich mineral deposits and Champion Lode (cut) has been prospected since the early 19th century. Old Kiln Ruins Besides tungsten, the area was also a source of beryl, opal, topaz, tourmaline and 60 other crystals and minerals. Old Mine Main Quarry and Mill Area Dynamite Storage Tunnel Rt 25 About The Trails There are four main marked trails running north/south through the valley and the Rails-to-Trails trail runs along the west bank of the river. The Parlor Rock Park White Trail through the valley is (1877-1907)the easiest and travels through - no remaining historical ruins a wide variety of scenery. The Yellow and Red Trails traverse the Ridges while Blue Trail Indian Ledge stays close to the river. (Native American) World War II Airplane Crash Site Radcliffe Knit Mill Coyote Crossing (Footbridge) Indian washed away in the Fall of 2018 Slant Rock Brook Cow Tunnel Slab Rock Clearing Jeep Crossing (Ford Across River) Slant Rock Brook Footbridge Turtle Rock Housatonic Railroad Retaining Wall Black Pool Dry River Bed and Gorge Area Reservoir Fire Road Overlook Legend Ice House Ruins Pequonnock River Trumbull Pond Bed Valley State Park (Reservoir) Town Park Clffs Side Trumbull Pond Dam Overlooking Main Trails (Reservoir) Rt. 25 Trails Rail Spillway Bridge Ruins and Painted Billboard Cliffs Pequonnock River Remnants of Tributary Streams Ancient Riverbed Former Reservoir and Earthen Dam Tait's Paper Mill Ruins (1836) Historical Sites Points of Interest Fireroad • • • • • • • • MAP DESIGN BY RICH COFFEY - TRUMBULL TRAILS COALITION